

How can I be involved in elections if I'm not old enough to vote?

Elections affect you whether you are old enough to vote or not. Elections can change:

- How much money your school gets
- How old you have to be to drive a car
- Which jobs are available in your community
- How universities in Indiana operate

There are several programs in Indiana created to help students participate in the election process.

One of the programs that lets you experience Election Day at the polls is the 16 & 17-Year-Old Poll Worker Program

If all of the members of your county election board have voted to allow students to do so, you may volunteer to work at a local polling place on Election Day.

You will work in a “non-partisan” way, which means not working on behalf of any political party.

You will play a key role in running a fair and efficient election.

For more information about the 16 & 17-Year-Old Poll Worker Program, contact your county election board.
